The Dhāraṇī of the Noble Perfection of Wisdom in Eight Thousand Lines, known in Tibetan as Phakpa Sherab kyi Pharol tu Chinpa Gyaktongpé Zung and in Sanskrit approximately as Āryāṣṭasāhasrikāprajñāpāramitādhāraṇī, is a very brief work that distills one of the most celebrated Perfection of Wisdom sutras into a single incantation. After paying homage to the Blessed Mother, the Perfection of Wisdom, it presents a short mantra and explains that by retaining it one effectively retains the entire Perfection of Wisdom in Eight Thousand Lines. It further promises that the dhāraṇī averts every kind of evil omen and completely purifies karmic obscurations and the causes of rebirth in the lower realms. It is Toh 934 in the Kangyur, where it belongs to the class of dhāraṇī texts, the collection of short incantations valued for their protective and purifying power.

Just as the Bodhi tree now standing at Bodh Gayā neither is nor is not the same tree beneath which the Buddha attained awakening, so too this stupa is intended as the next generation of stupa — dependently arising according to the conditions of its environment, and ceaselessly proclaiming the Dharma for the benefit of all sentient beings.
