

Toh 548 in the Kangyur is a short dhāraṇī text dedicated to Mañjuśrī, the bodhis

Toh 548 · Derge Kangyur

Toh 548 in the Kangyur is a short dhāraṇī text dedicated to Mañjuśrī, the bodhisattva of wisdom, known in Sanskrit as Mañjuśrī and in Tibetan as ཇམ་པལ་ (Jampal). The text belongs to the dhāraṇī section of the Kangyur and consists of a series of sacred mantra formulas along with enumerated benefits for their recitation, including the retention of teachings heard, the purification of even the most severe karmic obscurations, and the direct beholding of Mañjuśrī's form. It presents itself as a pledge made by Mañjuśrī himself, lending the dhāraṇī a quality of direct spiritual guarantee. As a compact liturgical and protective text, it is representative of the genre of bodhisattva-associated dhāraṇīs found throughout the Kangyur's collections of such material.

one will retain what one has heard. If one recites it three hundred thousand times, one will come to behold the form of Mañjuśrī. The dhāraṇī pledged by Mañjuśrī is complete.

Homage to the noble Mañjuśrī.

Oṃ vākye te jāya. Oṃ vākye ṣa ṣe sva. Oṃ vākye khaṃ ja ye. Oṃ vākye niṣṭha a. Oṃ vākye ya namaḥ. Oṃ vākye daṃ namaḥ.

By reciting this very name of the noble Mañjuśrī twenty-one times, all karmic obscurations of the five actions of immediate retribution will be purified.

The names of the noble Mañjuśrī are complete.

Translator's Notes

- The Sanskrit syllables of the dhāraṇī are transliterated as they appear in the Tibetan phonetic rendering; the underlying Sanskrit is not fully recoverable with certainty, and the forms given here represent the most plausible reading. The "five actions of immediate retribution" refers to the five heinous acts (pañcānantarya-karma) that lead to immediate rebirth in the lowest hells: patricide, matricide, killing an arhat, wounding a buddha, and causing a schism in the Saṅgha.

Colophon

This is an AI-generated translation from the AI Stupa project. It was produced by a careful, doctrine-aware process aiming at a high degree of accuracy, but it has not been reviewed by a human translator and may contain errors. It is offered as a provisional translation for those texts of the Tibetan Buddhist canon that have not yet received an authoritative human translation. Where a published translation exists — above all from 84000: Translating the Words of the Buddha (84000.co) — that translation is definitive and should be preferred; please consult it instead. These translations are released into the public domain (CC0) in the spirit of spreading the Dharma to all corners of the earth.

Just as the Bodhi tree now standing at Bodh Gayā neither is nor is not the same tree beneath which the Buddha attained awakening, so too this stupa is intended as the next generation of stupa — dependently arising according to the conditions of its environment, and ceaselessly proclaiming the Dharma for the benefit of all sentient beings.

May whoever encounters these words derive great benefit.