The Noble Victorious Averter

Āryavijayavatīnāmapratyaṅgirā · Toh 968 · Derge Kangyur
འཕགས་པ་རྣམ་པར་རྒྱལ་བ་ཅན་ཞེས་བྱ་ཐོད་བཟློག་པ

The Noble Victorious Averter, known in Sanskrit as Āryavijayavatī nāma Pratyaṅgirā, is a short protective scripture whose Tibetan title carries the same meaning of a victorious spell that turns back harm. It opens with homage to all the buddhas and bodhisattvas who strive to protect beings, to the accomplished ones and the holders of spell-mantras, to the Three Jewels, and to the great compassionate bodhisattva Avalokiteśvara. It then calls for recitation of the Victorious Averter, which is said to dispel killers, sorcery, and vetāla spirits, to pacify what is inauspicious, and to stupefy and paralyze the dangers posed by kings, thieves, fire, water, ḍākinīs, pretas, piśācas, and other hostile forces. The work belongs to the class of dhāraṇī and averting texts, recitations meant to ward off misfortune and malevolent influences, and it is catalogued as Toh 968 in the Kangyur, where it appears among the collected dhāraṇīs.

In the language of India: ārya vijayavati nāma pratyaṃgirā
In the language of Tibet: The Noble Victorious Averter.

Homage to all the buddhas and bodhisattvas who earnestly strive to protect all beings. Homage to all the accomplished ones (siddhas). Homage to all the holders of vidyā-mantras. Homage to the Buddha. Homage to the Dharma. Homage to the Saṅgha. Homage to the noble Avalokiteśvara, the bodhisattva, the great being, endowed with great compassion.

Having paid homage to them, one should recite the one called the Victorious Averter. It dispels killers and sorcery, and vetālas, and fully pacifies what is inauspicious. It stupefies, paralyzes and bewilders the fear of kings, the fear of thieves, the fear of fire, the fear of water, the fear of ḍākinīs, the fear of pretas, piśācas and kumbhāṇḍas, the fear of shadow-oppressors, the fear of apasmāras, the fear of pūtanas, the fear of kaṭapūtanas, the fear of going astray and of setting out on a journey, and the fear of the various beings that roam by day and by night. It makes the complexion fair and fully increases joy. It repels all enemies, fully pacifies all obstructors and vināyakas, and thoroughly purifies all wrongdoing. It stupefies the mouths of others, paralyzes their mouths, and makes one's own face beautiful.

Homage to the noble Avalokiteśvara, the bodhisattva, the great being, endowed with great compassion. May these bases of secret mantra be accomplished!

tadyathā oṃ dhara dhara dhara dhara dhara dhara dhara dhiri dhiri dhiri dhiri dhiri dhiri dhiri dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru Please protect me, please protect me from fear, from all harm, from killers and from all sorcery!

tadyathā sara sara sara sara sara sara sara siri siri siri siri siri siri siri suru suru suru suru suru suru suru mara mara mara mara mara mara mara miri miri miri miri miri miri miri muru muru muru muru muru muru muru Please protect me, please protect me from all illness!

tadyathā hili hili hili hili hili hili hili hili hili hulu hulu hulu hulu hulu hulu hulu hulu hulu kili kili kili kili kili kili kili kili kili kili mili mili mili mili mili mili mili mili mili cili cili cili cili cili cili cili cili cili culu culu culu culu culu culu culu culu culu Please repel all bhūtas!

oṃ visara visara kaṃpa kaṃpa nāśanāya nāśaya nāśaya
All you enemies who wish me ill, who are hostile and malicious, who work mantras and perform fire offerings against me, who make others do so, and who rejoice in what has been done: all of you, go back upon yourselves! svāhā

I bind the eyes of all who are unfriendly, I bind their ears, I bind their noses, I bind their tongues, I bind their bodies, I bind their minds, I bind all their limbs, great and small.

sphuṭa sphuṭa sphuṭa sphoṭaya sphoṭaya sphoṭaya
Please dispel all killers and sorcery, please destroy them, please demolish them!
sarva śatrūṃ turu turu turu turu svāhā
Please protect me, please protect me from fear, from all harm, from killers, sorcery, vetālas and all apasmāras! svāhā
Please remove, please remove all my wrongdoing!
cara cara svāhā mara mara svāhā siri si svāhā kuru kuru svāhā dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru dhuru svāhā

All those people who wish harm and do not wish benefit, all who look upon me, I stupefy, I paralyze, I throw into turmoil, I bewilder.

O you who confound all bhūtas, all grahas and all illnesses, you who bewilder them, you who stupefy them, you who paralyze them, you who destroy them, you who utterly destroy them, you who utterly scatter them, you who utterly crush them! svāhā

nīle nīle nīlakeśe svāhā pīti pīti vītakeśe svāhā lohite lohite lohitakeśe svāhā avadate avadate avadātakeśe svāhā śvete śvete śvete bastvadhāraṇiye svāhā

O you who hold power over all bhūtas, please remove all my wrongdoing! svāhā
O you who bring increase, you who bring increase, please increase all my glory and good fortune, please make it increase, please do so! svāhā
Please protect me, please protect me from fear, from harm, from contagious disease, from all turmoil, from all killers, from all sorcery, from all illnesses, from all grahas, from all wrongdoing, from tainted food, from faulty meditation, from harmful defilement, and from all harmful omens! svāhā

This Victorious Averter,
Proclaimed as the source of victory:
Whoever wears it at the neck
Will surely be victorious.
Wrongdoing, bad dreams, the inauspicious,
Kings, fire, thieves and enemies:
None of these can do that person harm.
Whoever wears this at the neck
Will not be carried off by water;
Their wrongdoing will be fully purified,
Their virtues will ever increase,
And they will gain freedom from illness.

This concludes the Noble Victorious Averter.

Translator's Notes

• "Shadow-oppressors" renders a term for a class of spirits that afflict through a person's shadow, possibly a chāyā-type graha. The identification is uncertain, so the meaning is translated. "Apasmāras" renders the Tibetan "those who cause forgetting," and "pūtanas" and "kaṭapūtanas" render "putrid ones" and "body-putrid ones," following the standard equivalences. "Killers" translates a term for agents of lethal harm, often sorcerous. "Sorcery" translates a term for hostile magical rites.

Colophon

This is an AI-generated translation from the AI Stupa project. It was produced by a careful, doctrine-aware process aiming at a high degree of accuracy, but it has not been reviewed by a human translator and may contain errors. It is offered as a provisional translation for those texts of the Tibetan Buddhist canon that have not yet received an authoritative human translation. Where a published translation exists — above all from 84000: Translating the Words of the Buddha (84000.co) — that translation is definitive and should be preferred; please consult it instead. These translations are released into the public domain (CC0) in the spirit of spreading the Dharma to all corners of the earth.

Just as the Bodhi tree now standing at Bodh Gayā neither is nor is not the same tree beneath which the Buddha attained awakening, so too this stupa is intended as the next generation of stupa — dependently arising according to the conditions of its environment, and ceaselessly proclaiming the Dharma for the benefit of all sentient beings.

May whoever encounters these words derive great benefit.