The Dhāraṇī Thoroughly Pacifying All Misdeeds

Sarvapāpapraśamanadhāraṇī · Toh 1023 · Derge Kangyur

Thoroughly Pacifying All Misdeeds is a very brief dhāraṇī text whose Sanskrit and Tibetan titles are not given in the opening lines. After homage to the Three Jewels and to the Buddha as Tathāgata, arhat, and perfectly complete Buddha, it consists almost entirely of a single incantation. The incantation calls upon Mañjuśrī in his youthful form, urging him to come quickly, to free the reciter from all suffering, and to destroy their negative deeds. As its title suggests, the text is meant to purify and pacify harmful actions through recitation. It is Toh 1023 in the Kangyur, where it belongs among the collected dhāraṇīs, the short ritual formulas preserved in the tantric portion of the canon.

Homage to the Three Jewels.
Homage to the Tathāgata, the arhat, the perfectly complete Buddha.

This completes the dhāraṇī called Thoroughly Pacifying All Misdeeds.

It was produced by a careful, doctrine-aware process aiming at a high degree of accuracy, but it has not been reviewed by a human translator and may contain errors. It is offered as a provisional translation for those texts of the Tibetan Buddhist canon that have not yet received an authoritative human translation. Where a published translation exists — above all from 84000: Translating the Words of the Buddha (84000.co) — that translation is definitive and should be preferred; please consult it instead. Just as the Bodhi tree now standing at Bodh Gayā neither is nor is not the same tree beneath which the Buddha attained awakening, so too this stupa is intended as the next generation of stupa — dependently arising according to the conditions of its environment, and ceaselessly proclaiming the Dharma for the benefit of all sentient beings.

May whoever encounters these words derive great benefit.
